CAPOGNA'S DUGOUT HISTORY

In March 1973, Art Capogna's vision of a family-friendly Italian restaurant became a reality. The enormous portions, hand-tossed pizza, and unique atmosphere of a comfortable neighborhood pizzeria made Capogna's Dugout an instant and lasting success. Art Capogna's passion for supporting the community through youth sports is displayed proudly on the walls; for it was more than a restaurant to him...it was about enjoying good food with family and friends. The Dugout is "home" to generations of locals and tourists alike. Sadly, in 1994, Art Capogna passed away but his legacy lives on through his family and the loyal customers who pass through the doors each year. From our family to yours, we say "welcome home!"
